University of Michigan Seminar on Poverty Research

Winter Term, 2004

Please check web for more details: http://wwwnpc.umich.edu/news/events/others/index.shtml

Qualitative Research to Unravel the Race/Ethnicity and Poverty Relationship
A UM MLK Symposium
(To be followed by a graduate student research methods seminar on Thursday Jan. 22, 10:00 am – noon, 1015 E. Huron, NPC Conference Room. Please RSVP to barkto@umich.edu)

January 28, 3:30-5:00pm. 1015 E. Huron, NPC Conference Room -- Helen Levy, University of Chicago
Why Are People Uninsured?
(Co-sponsored with RWJ Scholars in Health Policy Research Program)

March 8, 5:30 – 7:00pm. 1015 E. Huron, NPC Conference Room – Mary Pattillo, Associate Professor of Afroamerican Studies and Sociology, Northwestern University.
Transforming (?) Public Housing in Chicago
(This seminar is presented within a doctoral course at the Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy: PubPol 810, Policy Research Seminar)

March 10, 3:30-5:00pm. 1015 E. Huron, NPC Conference Room – Robert Plotnick, Professor of Public Affairs and Adjunct Professor of Economics, University of Washington
Seven Decades of Nonmarital Childbearing in the U.S.

March 12, 2-3:30pm. Wolverine Room, Michigan Union -- Larry Katz, Elisabeth Allison Professor of Economics, Harvard University.
Moving to Opportunity for Fair Housing: 5-Year Impact Evaluation
(Co-sponsored with Labor Seminar)

March 24, 3:30-5:00pm. 1015 E. Huron, NPC Conference Room. -- Jacob Klerman, Senior Economist, RAND.
Final Report on the Statewide Evaluation of CalWORKS
March 26, 2-3:30pm. 201 Lorch Hall -- Steve Raphael, Goldman School of Public Policy, University of California, Berkeley.

The Effectiveness of the Massachusetts Workforce Development System

(Co-sponsored with the Labor Seminar)

March 29, 5:30 – 7:00pm. 1015 E. Huron, NPC Conference Room – Geoffrey Wallace, Assistant Professor of Economics and Public Affairs, Robert M. La Follette School of Public Affairs, University of Wisconsin-Madison.

Work and Earnings of Low-Skilled Women: A Sobering Comparison of Survey Responses and Administrative Records

(This seminar is presented within a doctoral course at the Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy: PubPol 810, Policy Research Seminar)

March 31, 4:00-5:30pm. Michigan Union Kuenzel Room. -- Glenn Loury, University Professor and Professor of Economics at Boston University.

Color-Blind Affirmative Action

(Co-sponsored with the Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy.)

April 8, 11:30-1pm. 6th Floor, ISR. -- John Ayanian and Michael McWilliams, Harvard Medical School.

The Impact of Medicare Coverage on Basic Clinical Services for Previously Uninsured Adults

(Co-sponsored with Health and Retirement Study Seminar)